

FREE MEDICAL CLINICS IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Free medical clinics in South Carolina provide indigent residents with basic medical care, including prescriptions medicines, wellness education and in some cases, dental or chiropractic care and psychological counseling. The clinics are as diverse as the communities that support them are. One operates in a homeless shelter, another operates within a university school of nursing, and several are closely associated with congregations or multi-denominational religious organizations, or community hospitals. Please contact the nearest facility by telephone and make an advance appointment before visiting any clinic.
